7. Copy the code provided next, not the copy currently on the screen!

THIS ONE!

This will copy the code you need for the website, not just a link!

- Open your website control software (Dreamweaver, Wordpress, whichever software you use to code your site)

- Find the page and location on that page where you'd like the video to show

    <h2>Online Courses</h2>

    <hr class="hr_color" />

      We have a number of courses available on dema

    <center>
     Check out our training videos on YouTube that you can watch
    We create new videos all the time!
    </center>

    <a href="https://www.youtube.com/user/BTOPEXpress/" class="butt

    Go to Youtube

- Paste the YouTube code into your website

    we have a number of courses available on demand: watch and learn on our youtube channel.

    <iframe width="560" height="315" src="https://www.youtube.com/embed/B4F-dn3BLLY" title="YouTube video player" frameborder="0" allow="accelerometer; autoplay; clipboard-write; encrypted-media; gyroscope; picture-in-picture" allowfullscreen></iframe>
    <center>

11. Save your changes

12. Put the code on a test server (if you have one) or set your changes to “go live” (in Dreamweaver, I “Put” the code on the live server)

13. Check your web page to be sure it's there and working!

Good luck!
